My eleven year old son surprised me by telling me he liked his new class at BRIDGES and wished he could go twice a week! This enjoyment he reported ^{ing} ~~experience~~ was quite a change from the typically ^{previously} resistant attitude he showed towards writing and tutoring.

I evaluated a number of other tutoring centers and concluded BRIDGES would give him the best education in writing and the Reference Request different styles of writing.

Would you be willing to act as a reference on our behalf for prospective customers who want to talk to you about your experience with us?
